The risk of Covid-19 transmission in the community may appear low right now but we know things can change quickly.

At Ambulance Victoria (AV), vaccination is an important part of its armour in protecting personnel against the virus, together with the use of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and by taking every precaution to protect themselves, patients and their colleagues.

AV's Corryong Team Manager, Marita Harrison, said her team is celebrating as all eight of the Upper Murray First Responders (FR) including Ambulance Community Officers (ACOs) and all Upper Murray AV Paramedics have completed their course of Covid-19 vaccinations.

"Our goal is to keep our community safe and well and it is important we are doing all we can to protect ourselves and our patients," Marita said.

"If you are getting your vaccine soon, make sure you space the injection and your flu shot by at least seven days. This is just to manage any side-effects that may come from many vaccinations."

Despite the challenges Covid presented during 2020 and the continuing pandemic environment in Victoria, AV remains committed to ensuring that all critically-ill Victorians continue to receive the urgent, lifesaving and time-critical ambulance response they need.

In some cases, an emergency response comes from an ACO team. Members are employed on a casual basis to work at either a community or a Paramedic branch.

They are trained to provide advanced first-aid in rural and remote communities where the ambulance caseload is low or the ambulance branch is not staffed on a full-time basis.

"ACOs are trained to provide a support service to qualified paramedics," Marita said.

"They provide early interventions and can transport patients to hospital.

"ACOs are dispatched at the same time as a qualified ambulance paramedic to a Triple Zero (000) call and due to their location and proximity to the local community they serve, they will most likely arrive prior to ambulance paramedics."

ACOs attend traffic accidents, respiratory and cardiac cases and other incidents requiring emergency care which provides invaluable local support for AV.

Priest brings varied experience

The local Anglican community welcomed its new minister at an induction service on Sunday for the Reverend Maryann Leonard, Priest-in-Charge of the Anglican Parish of Corryong.

Introducing Rev Maryann

I was inducted as the Priest-in-Charge of the Anglican Parish of Corryong on July 3rd.

My husband John and I are nearly unpacked and we will hit the ground running.

I have a strong and resilient faith and a love and zest for life. I am vivacious and of good humour and not a procrastinator. My husband is known as the Vicar's Wife (VW) and we are partners in ministry.

My family are formidable allies when it comes to my ministry and we are loud and proud and have a wonderful relationship. I have four children and their partners and three adorable grandchildren. My daughter Annalyse has little sight. She has a seeing eye dog 'Pluto'. They are regulars at church services and events.

I love all forms of music, performed in local theatre and will sing or sort of dance at the drop of a hat!

VW is a chef as is my son. I too like to dabble in the art of cookery. We both like to entertain formally and informally and love to party. A good cab sav or prosecco will always go down a treat. We are accepting of change and I love to use technology.

As well as being an ordained Anglican pPriest, I have had more than 30 years teaching experience in Catholic and Anglican schools, as well as state schools. I have held many leadership positions and also lectured in education at James Cook University in Townsville.

My role in schools has been teaching, welfare and specialist literacy. I am also a qualified 'Seasons of Grief' facilitator.

I continue professional development with the Victorian Council of churches as a Community Chaplain. Over the last couple of years, I have completed advanced emotional first aid. This training has enabled me to be a first responder to trauma situations, which includes suicides. I also work with families and others affected by trauma.

My ministry over the years has been varied and very worthwhile.

We are both looking forward to meeting people and becoming part of this close-knit community. There will be challenges but also hopefully we will have a developing relationship with the community, as we begin to understand what you would like the church to do to assist you.

Police seek witnesses to crash

Corryong police are asking for help from members of the community who may have information about a single-vehicle car accident in the early hours of Sunday morning near Cudgewa.

The driver of a Toyota Landcruiser tray ute travelling from Corryong lost control of the vehicle on Briggs Gap Road at around 4am, approximately 300 metres from the intersection with the Cudgewa-Tintalra Road.

The driver, who was the sole occupant of the vehicle, failed to negotiate a sharp bend and the vehicle rolled several times down a steep incline.

The driver was discovered in the vehicle by passers-by some time later and taken to a house in Cudgewa where he became very unwell.

He was conveyed directly by ambulance to Albury Base and has since been released.

Police are seeking details from anyone who may have seen the incident or has information about events leading up to it.

Sergeant Liam McMahon added that people should be careful about moving anyone involved in an accident.

"You don't know what type of injuries they may have or how serious they are," he warned.

"You should ring '000' straight away and wait until police and emergency services arrive at the scene."

Sgt McMahon also warned that police would be cracking down on drink driving in the district.

"There have been a significant number of offences recently and we will be ensuring that people get the message - if you drink and drive, you will pay the price.

"Take this as fair warning."

Sgt McMahon also reminded drivers not to leave their cars unsecured.

In Victoria it is an offence to leave a motor vehicle unattended with keys in ignition, motor running, brakes not secured or doors unlocked.

"We've had incidents lately where valuables have been taken from unlocked vehicles," he said.

"We will continue to monitor vehicles in the street and if they are unsecured we will be issuing infringement notices."

Sgt McMahon added that local businesses should also be more security conscious.

"There have been regular break-ins in the district including farms and business owners should review their security measures," he said.

"Police are available to help business owners conduct a security audit and advise on the best steps to take.

"In the first instance, the best thing to do is install CCTV."

First responders ramp up protection

"If you are interested in becoming a local ACO, you would undertake training to develop and maintain your life-saving skills," Marita added.

"The initial training is now a Certificate II in Medical Service First Response.

"Regular training sessions are provided and topics include Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), basic life support, approaching an incident, environmental emergencies such as snake bites, pharmacology, childbirth, trauma, diabetic emergencies, fractures, head injuries, anaphylaxis and much more.

"A medical background is not required to become an ACO."

Upper Murray Community Recovery

Weekly Recovery Update - 7 July 2021

Cartoon Workshops a big success for local kids

School holidays were a chance to learn something new and fun and thanks to SPLAToons, the Shire's children were able to learn the basics of cartoon drawing.

Billie Galbraith (pictured with cartoonist, Oz from SPLAToons) produced this beauty after some guidance from the expert.

A big thank you to Victorian Youth Week for funding these events in Corryong and Tallangatta.

Scooter workshops were also held during the holidays at Corryong and Tallangatta skateparks.

Building local skills

A lot of work can go into a grant application so to help ensure the best chance of success, a three-part grant writing workshop series was held in Corryong last month.

The workshops were run by Bushfire Recovery Victoria and facilitated by Pat Grosse from the Community Entrepreneur. Pat stepped community members through Getting Ready for a Grant, Writing a Compelling Grant Application and Managing Your Project.

Below are some of the most important points discussed when preparing for a grant application.

1. Always check eligibility criteria - before starting a grant application, are you eligible to apply?
2. Always contact the grant officer for clarification on any queries you may have.
3. A good grant application takes time. Don't leave it to the last minute.
  - You need to clearly answer why you need a grant, how your project will make a difference, how many people will it impact, where is your evidence, and what will be your legacy?
  - Understand the type of activities that a grant provider will and won't look to fund.

- A grant is always about the Grant Funder's aims and objectives. There is always a policy directive behind a grant offering. How can your project help them achieve their organisations desired outcomes? With this in mind, know and plan your project so that you can.
- Unpack eligibility criteria and guidelines and read FAQs before beginning a grant application. These will tell you if the grant is best suited to your project and what you're looking to achieve.
- Consider governance - who is accountable for keeping records, submitting progress reports and do you have access to the skill set needed to see your project through to completion? You may need to consider a project manager.

- If you're successful, what does this look like?
- Don't ever assume that who is reading your application knows who you are and what is going on.
- "Chasing the yellow taxi" - you don't attempt to get in every taxi that goes past. You know there will be another. Many grants have multiple rounds or there may be a better grant option for your project.

Senator McKenzie is sworn in as a minister by Prime Minister Scott Morrison and Governor-General, David Hurley AC.

Senator completes comeback

Following the return of Barnaby Joyce to The Nationals leadership and the role of Deputy Prime Minister, a ministerial shake-up has resulted in the Senator for Victoria, Bridget McKenzie, returning to Cabinet.

The appointment of the Wodonga-based senator last Friday to the portfolio of regionalisation, regional education, regional communications, drought and emergency management came less than 18 months after she was forced to resign over the sports rorts scandal.

“This week marks 10 years since I was elected to the Senate for Victoria,” she said.

“It was also a privilege to be sworn in as a Minister of the Crown virtually, from the regions, from my home base of Wodonga in north-east Victoria.

“It’s a great honour to serve as the Minister for National Recovery and Resilience and Emergency Management and Minister for Regionalisation, Regional Communications and Regional Education under the Morrison-Joyce government.

“It comes during incredibly challenging times with the Covid-19 pandemic and as our regions recover from bushfires, floods and drought I will work tirelessly to support them through the recovery.

“The pandemic has also seen a shift in workplace arrangements with more people working from home and relocating to our regions. I look forward to exploring opportunities on this front for regional Australia.

“As a Nationals

Senator, I will always be guided by my values and beliefs that Australia must be a secure prosperous and sovereign nation and all Australians, regardless of where they live, deserve access to equal opportunities that benefit them and their communities.

“The job starts today and I look forward to getting out into the regions as soon as possible.”

Fresh start the right time to commit

Member for Indi, Dr Helen Haines, has called on the new Nationals Ministers sworn in last Friday to begin their roles by supporting a strong, independent and effective integrity commission.

“The swearing-in of the new ministers must mark the start of a new commitment to urgently legislate an integrity commission with broad jurisdiction, strong investigative powers and public hearings when it is in the public interest to do so,” Dr Haines said.

“New Nationals Ministers will once again have wide discretion over large buckets of taxpayer money that should go where there is most need.

“How can Australians trust that taxpayer money isn’t being rorted without a strong Federal Integrity Commission?”

“The events of this week have shown once again a Federal Integrity Commission is long overdue, Dr Haines said.

“It is shameful that multiple decisions on funding for commuter carparks were made by press release, with absolutely no input from the relevant department.

“From sports rorts to car parks, Australians have had enough. On the 8th of September it will be 1,000 days since the government committed to introduce a Federal Integrity Commission but since then all we have seen is draft legislation that has been roundly criticised,” Dr Haines said.

“My bill would create a robust commission with strong investigative powers. I know my bill has support from MPs from every party in Parliament.

“It’s time for the new Nationals Ministers to get on board with my bill for a strong, effective and independent Federal Integrity Commission.”

Benambra may lose valley voters

Victoria’s Electoral Boundaries Commission (EBC) has released proposed new state electoral boundaries for public comment.

The EBC has been conducting a redivision of electoral boundaries for both Houses of State Parliament to ensure that each vote in Victorian state elections has an equal value and that each elector is represented equally in the Parliament.

Electoral Commissioner, Warwick Gately, one of the three members of the EBC, was pleased with the level of community engagement in the initial consultation period and issued a further call for Victorians to have their say.

“The EBC in December 2020 invited submissions from the public and received 58 submissions – five from political parties, 15 from organisations and community groups and 38 from individuals,” he said.

To restore the state electorates to approximate equality, based on the last two elections, the EBC is considering transferring the Kiewa Valley from Benambra to the Ovens Valley District. The valley is part of Alpine Shire and as such, has a community of interest with the bulk of the municipality already in Ovens Valley.

The EBC also considered transferring Beechworth or Rutherglen but as both are in the Indigo Shire it would make sense on community of interest grounds to keep the whole of Indigo in Benambra District.

“Anyone interested in providing comment on the proposed boundaries should lodge a written submission before 5 pm Friday 30 July 2021.”

The proposed boundaries can be downloaded from the EBC website. Written submissions can also be lodged via the website.

The EBC will take account of suggestions and objections and prepare final boundaries by late October 2021. These boundaries will take effect at the 2022 state election.

Communities encouraged to apply for more funding

The Australian government has released guidelines for the $280 million Black Summer Bushfire Recovery (BSBR) grants program, providing funding direct to communities to help in their ongoing recovery after the 2019-20 bushfires.

Minister for Emergency Management, David Littleproud, said bushfire recovery is still front and centre for the Australian government.

"We have committed more than $2 billion to bushfire recovery support, but we know disaster recovery is a long haul," he said.

"These grants will help communities continue their bushfire recovery journey.

"There is money earmarked for every eligible Local Government Area, with bigger funding envelopes for the areas that were hardest hit.

Co-ordinator General for the National Recovery and Resilience Agency, Shane Stone AC, said the grants are for projects that boost community recovery and at the same time help minimise the impact of future natural disasters.

"We know it takes time for communities to move forward after a disaster and the impact of the Black Summer bushfires is still deeply felt," Mr Stone said.

"True to my agency's guiding principle of 'locally led, locally understood and locally implemented', we have designed this program to be as simple and flexible as possible, so recovering communities can develop local projects that make sense to them."

Grants can range from $20,000 to $10 million and are open to community organisations, businesses and councils in Local Government Areas that were disaster-declared as a result of the 2019-20 bushfires.

Nationals Senate Leader and Senator for Victoria, Bridget McKenzie, encouraged local community groups and organisations to apply.

"This grants program is a great opportunity for local communities to identify and invest in recovery and resilience, through projects that address the social, economic or built environment needs of the community," she said.

"I encourage people in the North East to look at the guidelines, consider their community's needs and start planning projects – you know your local area best, so have a think about what could really benefit your community and help with recovery."

Applications open on 22 July, 2021 and close on 2 September, 2021.

Workshops to assist applicants with the grant process will be available in person and online from mid-July.

The Black Summer Bushfire Grants program is part of the National Bushfire Recovery Fund.

The National Recovery and Resilience Agency administers the grants. For more information and workshop details visit recovery.gov.au/black-summer-grants.

Guidelines and the preview application form are available from the Business Grants Hub at <https://business.gov.au/bsbr>.

More bushfire recommendations implemented

A major milestone was reached under the Bushfire Royal Commission last week with the opening of the Australian Climate Service (ACS).

Emergency Management Minister, David Littleproud, said the ACS will support the National Recovery & Resilience Agency and Emergency Management Australia. The Australian government has now completed 11 out of its 15 recommendations from the Royal Commission into National Natural Disasters," Mr Littleproud said.

"Many of the recommendations require collaboration with different levels of government, non-profits and the private sector and we have been working hard to get results.

"The ACS brings together data and scientific expertise from across Commonwealth agencies, including the Bureau of Meteorology, CSIRO, Australian Bureau of Statistics and Geoscience Australia.

"The information will help to anticipate natural disasters and focus our investment on reducing those risks.

"After the Royal Commission's report, we passed the National Emergency Declaration Act, allowing us to leverage Australian government capabilities in support of state and territory governments during emergencies.

"In line with the Royal Commission's recommendations, we have cut red tape for state governments to gain faster access to disaster recovery packages under the Disaster Recovery Funding Arrangements," Mr Littleproud added.

"This includes future call outs of the Australian Defence force to aid communities recovery needs in times of disaster.

"We have also committed significant resources for disaster recovery and resilience projects.

"The $600m Preparing Australia Program will open in October, to reduce the impacts of natural disasters and increase resilience for households and the community.

"We have increased annual funding to the National Aerial Firefighting Centre to $30m and will secure an additional large air tanker to boost our national aerial firefighting capability.

"We have also recently commenced a proof-of-concept trial, for a national Public Safety Broadband communications capability for emergency services. This capability will improve access to critical information and real-time situational awareness during emergencies."

Fire prevention group helps make better decisions

A grassroots community group which provides information about bushfire preparedness and prevention is conducting a series of upcoming webinars where people can gain knowledge from industry experts.

Bushfire Resilience Inc. (BRI) is a community organisation, based in the Shire of Nillumbik, whose aim is to provide bushfire information to households based on science, experience and best practice.

By being better informed people are empowered to make better decisions in preparing for and responding to the threat of bushfire.

BRI creates best practice webinars that include quality topics that are practical, helpful and relevant. The webinars involve the best presenters and panel members in Australia and include a robust audience engagement.

BRI is offering free information sessions on fire safety topics which are presented by well-respected scientists and academics.

There are five 90-minute webinars to be held over the next three months, with the first session scheduled for Wednesday July 21. The presenters' information is available at br.org.au/presenters.

To register for the webinars visit br.Org.Au/webinar.

Tribute:- Tom Sheather

OUR TOM

Written by Bridie Sheather

It has been three long months without our Tom and where to begin on what we have been feeling...

Firstly, we would like to thank the community for all the love and support we have received over the past three months. On the days we didn't have the energy to cook, it was your meals we pulled from the freezer. On the days the loneliness felt deafening, it was your tyres we heard crunch down our driveway. On the days we needed to cry, it was on your shoulder.

So a deep heartfelt thank you to each and everyone of you who offered a helping hand when we needed it the most in any shape or form, your kindness and empathy has not gone unnoticed.

On the 23rd January 2003, Tom Kenneth Sheather entered the world, a chubby ball of perfection, the final piece to the Sheather family puzzle Trudy and Peter had created. Their third and final beautiful boy.

From the beginning Tom hosted a smile that lit up a room, a smile that later became his trademark. A smile that's posted in every photo that hangs on our wall.

His two older brothers often made him grin. Nick and Cameron were constantly steering their brother into mischief. Their days were spent playing cricket on the lawn at 'Hunters Plain' and their evenings were spent around the dining table, laughing together. Always as a family.

In the early days Tom quickly took to planes. Maybe it was the closeness to the airport where he grew up or perhaps his Auntie Raelene's tales of travel ignited something deep within. His career path became evident very early on.

While getting a pilot's license was no easy feat, he knew he had to be clever, book smart. He began his pilot's dream aged 14, sitting on two cushions to see over the instrument dash of the plane. Lucky for Tom, intelligence was another thing that came naturally to him. With one of his flying instructors once stating "Tom has given me a benchmark to aim for all my students, the new gold standard - the Tom Sheather standard."

He delved into school and quickly began to outsmart his older brothers. While his sporting ability was questionable and his brothers never let him forget it, it didn't phase Tom. Like most things he just took it all in his stride.

In the past three months we have heard countless stories about our boy. How he touched your lives and had such a deep impact on people's journeys. Most stories began with that infectious smile, hit a peak with his sporting ability and ended with his quick wit. However, the main thing we heard and want to continue to hear is the deep imprint our Tom has left on your hearts and the warmth his memory brings to your day.

When Tom reached high school it became evident he was going to stick in his own lane and our family would be right there, on the side line cheering him on. He had a goal in mind, a dream of flying high and he was going to achieve it. Persistence and passion led him through his academic years.

A born leader, with that becoming obvious after he was assigned School Captain and had to lead the school through one of the hardest years imaginable - a year following bushfires and a year in lockdown. Not once did Tom halt, he trudged forward and led his peers in a direction of greatness. He was a left arm to teachers and a support beam to his classmates.

Outside of school stood Tom's biggest passion, his biggest achievement, the centre of his world - The Sheathers, his family. Trudy and Peter's shadow, Nick and Cameron's best mate. Little did he know he was the beating heart to this family and in our chest the rhythm is now lost.

A baby brother who taught his brothers about being wholesome and true. A son who taught his Dad how to love immeasurably, a bond between father and son that will forever be unbreakable. A third and final son who taught his mother tenderness, a friend who ensured she was never left alone at 'Hunters Plain'. While Trudy never got a daughter, she truly got to love deepest when Tom arrived, the final piece to that glorious puzzle.

The loss we feel as a family is immeasurable and we will never be "The Sheathers" like we were before.

In early 2019 Tom took on his proudest role, chest puffed out he was dubbed Uncle 'Moofy'. Tess quickly clung to her uncle and bathed in his natural affection every day. Quick trips to 'Ellisland' to grab Tess for afternoon jobs became a regular occurrence. Hand in hand Tess and Tom became best buddies. Tess became number one priority and unlike most of his friends he would often deny a party of a weekend and choose to be with his family instead, never wanting to miss a moment of Tess's milestones. Our regular called upon babysitter who insisted on staying for dinner but only if dessert quickly followed. Our home no longer feels like a home without him here to wake Tess up mid nap for a play.

There are many things Peter and Trudy embedded in their sons, brotherhood was the biggest. When the fire ravaged the farm in late 2019 Nick, Cameron and Tom stood strong. Beside Peter and Trudy they fought for the farm, for their home and everything it held. At merely 16 Tom's humour and capability pulled them through, Peter and Trudy held whole by their boys on a night they thought would be their worst. What our family has endured recently has proved to many that the fires were simply an inconvenience. We rebuilt, together as a family unit we built back everything we lost, Tom once again holding us all up when we needed it.

Truth be told Tom loved life, every day. Even throughout the bushfire which was closely followed by Covid-19, where he had to study from home and captain a school from afar. He never once complained, nor did he steer away from his dream of becoming a pilot. He simply dove into everyday excited for what it was to bring and thankful for the family that surrounded him.

That's what made Tom so admirable, he simply loved life and everything it threw at him was entirely minor for his path was paved and he was going to achieve what he had to, basking in the moments with his loved ones tucked closely by his side along the way.

In February 2021, Tom commenced employment with Oberon Aviation and took to the sky as an Aerial Observer. At 18 he had set in motion the path to his dream career, something he had always striven for.

An Aerial Observer is listed as one of the most important careers needed worldwide, a critical service which enables companies such as Essential Energy to ensure their services are safe, low flying along powerlines to inspect for any imperfections which could cause detrimental impacts such as a bushfire. Tom knew of its importance to people's safety and took great pride in going to work each day, even if it meant he had to have a dose of motion sickness tablets before he headed off!

In April 2021 Tom became a proud uncle again to his sweet Magnolia. As always Tom was the first to rush to the doorstep for a cuddle and the first to ensure I was okay, once again putting the needs of his family first.

The workplace accident that took our Tom will forever break our hearts, over and over again. His heroism for doing his line of work will never be forgotten. A career not enough people know of, a career so vital to communities safety and an essential service that is used every day. Our gratitude should be given to those aerial observers, thank you.

Tom was in the prime of his life when he was taken, though he fit more into his 18 years than most do in 90.

I write this to say thank you, a thank you to everyone who offered support. However, this is mainly a thank you to Tom, who taught us all how to truly live. So let's vow to be more like Tom, delve deep into everyday. Don't hesitate, take your chances while they are available. Be humble and be kind and just enjoy every day as it comes.

Let's continue to talk about Tom and bathe in the goodness he brought to our lives. He has two nieces who deserve to hear stories of their 'Uncle Moofy', he has parents who long to hear his name, brothers who puff their chest with pride at the thought of their brother, sisters-in-law who want to bathe in the sunshine of his memory.

Live life like Tom and please tell someone you love them today, because life can be oh so short.

Tom you are now where you are happiest, flying high.

Golden fish lure anglers

Recreational fishers have the opportunity to explore regional Victoria and land a tagged fish worth up to $10,000 as part of an expanded Golden Tag competition to boost tourism across the state.

The competition has hit several key milestones with more than $270,000 awarded to fishers since the program began.

The Victorian Fisheries Authority (VFA) started the Golden Tag competition in February 2020, successfully encouraging visitation to Gippsland and the state's North East as communities recovered from bushfires.

One of the $10,000 tagged fish - a brown trout - has been released in the Nariel Creek and currently remains at large.

Other releases in the North East include the Ovens River, Kiewa River,

Eildon Pondage, Running Creek, Mount Beauty Pondage, Rocky Valley Dam, Dartmouth Dam and Pondage, Lake Catani and Lake Buffalo

In addition to the $10,000 tagged fish and more than 950 remaining $2,000 tags in these areas, golden tags of both values have been spread across the state with more species to catch and more locations to share in the bounty.

Learn more about the competition, which runs until 31 December 2021, at www.vfa.vic.gov.au/goldentag.

Have your say on the dairy code of conduct

The public submission period for the first review of the Dairy Industry Code of Conduct is now open until 15 August, 2021.

Minister for Agriculture, Drought and Emergency Management, David Littleproud, said the Australian government was seeking input from dairy farmers, processors, industry representative bodies, government agencies and consumer organisations.

"The Dairy Code of Conduct was introduced on 1 January 2020 to address market imbalances in the dairy industry," he said.

"In this first review, feedback is required to make sure the code is operating as intended.

"The idea of the code was to address serious imbalances in bargaining power at each level of the dairy supply chain. "Creating a stronger business environment, healthier market competition and more competitive supply chains means fairer prices for farmers."

Public submissions can be lodged up until 15 August 2021 at the website <https://haveyoursay.awe.gov.au/dairy-code-of-conduct-review>.

Water bills increase

North East Water customers will see a small increase to the cost of water and sewer services from the start of the new financial year.

Executive Corporate Services, Anthony Hernan, said the average residential bill will rise by approximately $1.78 or 0.2 per cent for the financial year based on average residential usage.

"North East Water is still one of the most affordable water utilities in the country, and the third most affordable in Victoria," Mr Hernan said. "We're reducing the fixed charge component of our bills by 1.25 per cent, while volumetric charges will increase slightly by 1.55 per cent.

"The increase was approved by the water industry's economic regulator, the Essential Services Commission.

"Our aim is to make customer bills as affordable as possible and our price path over the next few years is expected to be similarly low.

"We understand that last financial year was difficult for some customers impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

"Help is available for those finding it tough to pay their bills, including short-term extensions through to long term assistance."

Mr Hernan added "With the new financial year, our major investments continue in local communities.

The average annual residential bill will be $953 based on 214 kL annual usage.

Netball
U11s: Awards: Tilly Paton - canteen, Belle McVean and Immy Tyrell - Urban Graze.

It was such an enjoyable game to watch and the girls showed great team work and showcased many new skills they had learnt at training. Ivy and Tilly were a strong combo in attack, feeding in well to CC and Immy. The girls in defence showed a determination to get the ball and didn't give up. Well done girls, you were all fantastic to watch and your hard work is paying off.

U15s: Awards: Urban Graze - Chloe McInnes, Canteen - Pippa Galbraith.

Cudgewa started this game undefeated but finished with a loss to Federals 24-13. Well done girls! This game was a joy to watch. Our skills and reading of the ball was mostly spot on. Some passages of play moved so fast with some fabulous goals from Chloe (6) and top scorer Paige (16), finishing off the plays. The other scorer was Tess with 2. Fantastic effort! Holly, some of your intercepts reminded us of your Mum - the apple doesn't fall far from the tree! Lexi was a star in centre, sticking with the ball and creating turnovers. Everyone deserved an award this week - you were all stars on the court!

D Grade: Awards: Ella Grzeschka - $20 club cash, Lexi Galbraith - Swans top.

With many players away our under 15s stepped up to the challenge. Maddie, Lexi, Pip, Chloe and Ella made an impac, giving it their all. Our revered club president Elise donned the dress and gave direction on the court and Emily, Georgie and Fleur worked well together.

C Grade: Awards: Maddie Bye - $20 club cash, Meg Galbraith - netball socks, Emma Paton

- Pickled Parrot voucher, Narelle McKimmie - Tess and Lil voucher.

A brilliant game to watch with defenders and shooters on fire. Narelle gave direction all throughout the game right down to the last minute.

B Grade: Awards: Georgia Bye, Georgia Bandy and Paula Heaphy.

What a game! It was goal for goal throughout where all ladies worked well together under the direction of Lauren. A draw was the result and we look forward to playing Cudgewa again in a few weeks and seeing whether another nailbiter can be played. Well done all.

A Grade: Awards: Georgia Bandy, Rachel Hansford.

Football

Under 11s: We made a good start and with a few families away Joey Paton stepped up for his first game and played well.

Jock was under every pack and led from the front. Digby and CC ran from defence and Harry rucked well. Ned skirted the packs while Lachie and Ethan kicked important goals. There were some great passages of link up play that resulted in goals which we have practiced at training. We have a week off before we meet Cudgewa again on July 17th.

Blues News

Netball

A Grade: The girls managed to come home with another win this week, beating Federals by 19 goals. Peta Turner made her season debut in GS, sliding straight back in as if she hadn't missed a game! Federals had a great defensive game the whole way down the court but Cudgewa's teamwork proved to be too strong for them on the day.

Awards: Sophie Greenhill, Maddi Deery & Taylah Gerecke.

B Grade: We got off to a slow start, taking time to adjust to a few new team members. After the first quarter we found ourselves down by eight and Georgia and Darty had to work hard in defence against Feds' shooters. The following quarter our side strengthened when Lizzie moved to WD and Katherine took to the court bringing us back to within two goals. After losing Lil to an ankle injury, a versatile Maddie joined Pip providing the team with two tall goalies. Hayley stepped up and enjoyed her first game in B playing in C and WA.

Izzy delivered two quick passes to the ring in the last couple of minutes of play which secured the last two goals and brought us back to a draw.

Best: Lizzie Star, Georgia Nicholas, Izzy Cottrell.

C Grade: Such a close game the whole way being equal for most of the time. Our determination and hard work paid off in the end coming away with a two goal win. Our defenders certainly had their work cut out for them with the Federals shooters shooting close to 100 per cent. Hannah Blair and Tayla Pierce were super stars in the defence end while Maddi, Hayley and Courtney worked very hard against a very tall and strong defence in the goal circle. Our mid-courtiers played strongly the whole game feeding the ball well into our goalies and keeping the pressure on.

Awards: Hannah Blair (mug), Tayla Pierc, Hayley McCallum.

D Grade: We showed our determination and want for the ball and the girls applied pressure throughout. In the attacking end we had shot after shot as the girls were on absolute fire!

Awards: Malkara Farrell, Amy Lockwood, Mikayla Kirby (mug).

Under 11s: We played a fantastic game but came away with a loss with Federals playing a strong game. I mixed the team right up putting players in positions they dont usually play but gee, they did me proud, trying their hardest and never giving up. What I loved most is that they were having fun.

Awards: Taylor Turnbull, Martha Whitehead, Addison Nugent.

Football- U11s: The team was gallant in defeat against a skilful Federal team. The team was told to hold their heads high as they had all played well and showed great determination. The coaches tried a few new things and the team adapted well. Ryder Pierce played an inspirational game, with other best players being Amy Costello, Declan Faithful, Jodie Pierce and Maison Bloom.

Blues shooter streaks ahead

Cudgewa spearhead, Kylin Morey, has put a gap on the chasing pack in the race for the Corryong Courier goalkicking award after booting eight majors against Federals on Saturday, taking his season's tally to 61 after only playing six matches. Morey leads teammate, Ben Hall, by 31 goals who kicked four in the 165-point decimation of the Swans.

If not for wayward kicking in attack in the first term, when Cudgewa had double the points to goals, the margin would have been greater but with Luke Bloom, James McInerney and Mitch Pynappels dominating proceedings at the stoppages the Blues righted the ship and bolted away in the second half.

Feds could only manage one goal for the day despite the commitment of George Galbraith, Ash Tyrell and Hayden McKimmie.

Tumbarumba enhanced its finals credentials with a comprehensive dismantlement of Corryong to the tune of 153 points in the other match.

Daniel Hitchens owned the forward line, finishing with eight goals and was well supported by another five multiple goalkickers in the romp.

Corryong had four quarter goers in Pat Riley, Matt Findlay and Thomas Shanks but the Demons' playing stocks are threadbare at the moment and they will need an injection of talent to pose a threat in finals.

In A grade netball, Corryong almost pulled off the upset of the season before an agonising loss to Tumbarumba by a solitary goal. The last placed Demons only have two premiership points from a draw this season but gave the third-placed Roos a real scare in a confidence boosting performance.

Top of the ladder Cudgewa had few issues in getting past Federals, cruising to a 57-38 victory. This week

The task doesn't get any easier for Corryong which travels to Bullioh on Saturday.

The Dogs are sitting in third place, a game behind Tumbarumba and will be planning on a percentage-boosting win over the Demons in their quest for a double chance come finals time.

Corryong will be hoping to get some players back this week but the Dogs are a well rounded outfit and will get the four points.

They will also be expecting Cudgewa to overcome the challenge of Tumbarumba in the other game, to open up second place.

The undefeated Blues sit three games clear but Tumbarumba coach, Quinn Rooney, has thrown down the gauntlet by declaring that "We're in a position where we should have as strong a team as we're going to get each week now."

"We play Cudgewa this week and we don't want to lose to them or lose again to be honest."

The Roos will have the home ground advantage on Saturday but the Blues experience and depth should prevail in a hotly contested game.
