The Towong Shire Council, in partnership with local community groups, has recognised the achievements of people who have contributed to the Upper Murray community at Australia Day breakfasts and ceremonies at the Lions Youth Hall in Corryong and the Memorial Hall in Walwa on Tuesday.

Towong mayor, Cr David Wortmann said the events were a welcome opportunity to come together and celebrate as a community after a challenging 2020.

"These awards give us a chance to recognise and thank the amazing people who have made a significant contribution to the Towong Shire community," he said.

"I'd like to particularly call out the stories of bravery and selflessness during last summer's bushfires and throughout our ongoing recovery, I can't thank you enough for your unwavering support for our community.

"A huge thank you also goes to the local community groups that hosted these awards - they wouldn't have been possible without all your hard work."

The Citizen of the Year award for Corryong was jointly shared by Fay Whitehead and Carol Allen and the announcement of their wins was met with acclaim by a large audience.

In a nice twist, Fay was presented with her award by her son, Cr Andrew Whitehead, representing Towong Council.

The Citizen of the Year for Walwa was Suzie Martin.

Singer gets new year off to a golden start

After a tough year, Tooma-based musician Fanny Lumsden carried all before her at the 49th Australian Country Music awards at Tamworth on the weekend.

Leading the pack with seven nominations, the country music queen capped off the night in an incredible feat by walking away with five Golden Guitars – including some of the biggest awards.

Fanny collected gongs for 2021 Toyota Album of the Year (Fallow), Female Artist of the Year (Fallow), Apple Music Single of the Year (Fierce) and CMT Video of the Year (Mountain Song/This Too Shall Pass)

The award-winning singer-songwriter now takes her collection of the prestigious Golden Guitar awards on her mantelpiece to eight, also adding to her recent ARIA Award win for 'Best Country Album'.

Fanny was overwhelmed with her success, saying

Fanny Lumsden and her partner Dan Stanley Freeman celebrate awards success.

“Combined with the ARIA, this point in my trajectory as an artist as we are such a grassroots outfit, it's quite incredible.

“I was prepared to walk away with seven noms and no gongs. It's pretty amazing and I am so grateful to the community for supporting us.

“You don't make music for for this purpose but to know it connected with so many people is incredible.”

However, there is no time to sit back and savour her success as Fanny and her band are now taking her critically acclaimed album Fallow on the road to Queensland.

Fallow is out now through Red Dirt Records / Cooking Vinyl Australia.

Charolais goes on show

Local beef cattle stud, Challambi Charolais, will be holding an Open Day as part of Beef Week on Wednesday 3rd February 2021 between 9am and 6pm.

On display will be the herd's current donors and some of their progeny, yearling registered and commercial heifers, herd sires and 14 current sale bulls which are the new R drop. Sale bulls are all sired by Charolais breed leading AI sires. These include Palgrove, Hannibal, Charnelle Louis, Silverstream Landis, Winchester Maximus and CML Distinction.

“These AI sires were selected for use in herd use to produce progeny with traits that will suit various market specifications,” said Challambi principal,

Nigel Spink.

“The Silverstream Landis and Palgrove Hannibal progeny are standouts within the bull pen. All the bulls available for private sale are above breed average for growth, EMA and fat.

“The bulls are all performance recorded with full EBVs available, some bulls have been DNA tested homozygous polled, meaning all progeny will be polled.

“These bulls will produce progeny that grow quickly, meet high MSA grading and have the ability to produce progeny that finish on grass,” Mr Spink added.

During 2020, Challambi Qantas and a sire purchased for in herd use at Challambi were selected by Semex Australia to join their current list of AI Charolais sires. Charnelle Panama also has semen currently been distributed world wide.

These sires will be available for inspection.

“Our herd consists of 100 registered Charolais breeders and 120 commercial charolais breeders,” Mr Spink said.

“AI and ET programs are carried out twice yearly to continue the rapid development of quality genetics within our herd.”

Challambi Charolais is located at 512 Welumba Creek Road, Greg Greg - 25kms north of Corryong towards Tumbarumba. Further information is available on the website www.challambicharolais.com.au or Facebook page @challambicharolais.

A draft of above average bulls is available at Challambi Charolais.

Australia Day 2021 Community Awards

Join us in congratulating our Australia Day Community Award Winners for 2021!

Council, in partnership with local community groups, recognised the achievements of community members at an Australia Day Community Award Ceremony at the Youth Club Hall in Corryong on 26 January 2021.

Mayor Wortmann said the event was a welcome opportunity to come together and celebrate as a community after a challenging 2020.

"These awards give us a chance to recognise and thank the amazing people who have made a significant contribution to the Towong Shire community."

"I'd like to particularly call out the stories of bravery and selflessness during last summer's bushfires and throughout our ongoing recovery, I can't thank you enough for your unwavering support for our community."

"A huge thank you also goes to the local community groups that hosted these awards - they wouldn't have been possible without all your hard work."

Citizen of the Year Award

Pastor Carol Allen

Carol provides ongoing pastoral support to the Corryong community. During last summer's bushfires, Carol coordinated relief centre activities and provided pastoral support to those experiencing trauma.

Fay Whitehead

Fay has volunteered for many local organisations and is a committed member of the Anglican Church. After last summer's bushfires, Fay volunteered countless hours at the Emergency Relief Centre in Corryong.

Young Citizen of the Year Award

Sophie Hewatt

Sophie completed her education at Corryong College where she was a House and School Vice-Captain. She has been a member of many local sporting organisations and is a volunteer coach. She is a member of the Corryong CFA and assisted during last summer's bushfires, and has also been working with DELWP as a Project Firefighter this summer.

Champion of the Year Award

Ian Williams

Ian volunteered continuously with the Uniting Church Emergency Fencing Team from February to December 2020, clearing burnt fence lines and rebuilding fences. He also mentored and trained many other volunteers who had limited or no fencing experience.

Local Champion Award

Ralph (deceased), Carol, Tracey and Kate Fair - Hotel Cudgewa

During last summer's bushfire emergency, the Fair family kept their business open to ensure there was a place for the Cudgewa community to come together.

Paul Carkeek

Paul Carkeek, Captain of the Cudgewa Fire Brigade, has been a volunteer firefighter for nearly 40 years. He was instrumental during last summer's bushfire emergency, especially in his support of his fellow firefighters.

Pat Spicer

After last summer's bushfires, Pat assisted with relief activities at the Emergency Relief Centre. She was responsible for the sorting of donations, coordinating volunteer staff, and packing and delivering food hampers.

Joanne Mackinnon

During last summer's bushfires, Jo kept records of the farmers who remained behind to defend their properties. She became a source of up to date information, with farmers reporting physically to the Tintaldra Station homestead each day for emergency updates.

Jo and Luke Humphrey, Matt Aldridge, Leigh Eeles and Jodie Bonny - Rise from the Ashes Event

After last summer's bushfires, this team of five organised a two-day music event held on 29 February and 1 March 2020 at Cudgewa Recreation Reserve. They were able to quickly organise this massive logistically challenged event, with over 1,000 people attending, and raised $55,000.

Firefighters embrace the future

CFA's 30,000 plus volunteer firefighters will soon have access to the latest in virtual reality firefighting training, with a tailored training package under development.

CFA Chief Officer, Jason Heffernan, said the technology would help deliver CFA's number one priority – people's safety – whether they be volunteers, staff or the public.

"Accurate risk perception is the key to staying safe while fighting fires," CO Heffernan said.

"It's at the core of all firefighting.

"For the past 20 years, CFA has been at the forefront of computer-based learning for operational skills and improving people's natural ability to perceive risks in the field.

"However, we're always looking for more innovative ways to help our volunteers and that's why we're developing virtual reality firefighting training.

"The initial concept came from our volunteers themselves – a way to give volunteers a 'real life' ability to assess their skills, without exposing them to danger."

The FLAIM Trainer and FLAIM Extinguisher are unique training systems developed specifically for Firefighters will soon get state-of-the-art training.

firefighters by Geelong-based tech company FLAIM Systems alongside Deakin University researchers.

FLAIM Systems Chief Technology Officer and CFA volunteer, James Mullins, said the system worked in a very similar way to a flight simulator for pilot training but is designed specifically for firefighters.

"It combines virtual reality technology with real-life industry standard equipment such as a fire nozzle, breathing apparatus, hose reel and automated sense-perception devices such as a fire-proximity heat suit to simulate both the visual and sensory feelings of being in a fire," he said.

"Alongside the virtual reality headset, it gives the volunteers an opportunity to participate in a growing library of different scenarios – from house fires and grass fires to aeroplane fires."

FLAIM Systems is a Victorian start-up company of 18 employees, with an expanding customer base in 25 countries, winning worldwide recognition for its firefighter training.

Initially, CFA will purchase five Trainer and 10 Extinguisher systems which will be kept at its State Logistics Centre but used for training across the state once it is rolled out this year.

"CFA volunteers from across Victoria piloted FLAIM Trainer for six months to see if it suited our operational requirements and the feedback from members was very positive," CO Heffernan said.

The show must go on Organisations across Indi will share in new funding of $98,500 to support their Covid-19 recovery under the Australian government's Supporting Agricultural Shows and Field Days program.

Nationals Senate Leader, Bridget McKenzie, said nine show societies will receive between $2600 and $15,000 each and the Tallangatta Farming Expo will receive $2611.

"There is no doubt our North East communities have been dealt a tough hand in 2020, firstly the devastation of summer bushfires and then the extended state-wide shutdown because of Covid-19," she said.

The Corryong & Upper Murray Agricultural & Pastoral Society Inc (Corryong Show) will receive $2,700 under the program.

Driver faces drug drive penalties

Corryong police intercepted a NSW registered car on Towong Road about 9.55pm on Monday night when the driver, a 36-year-old Corryong man, tested positive to an illicit drug.

He was required to accompany police to the Corryong station for a further test which also returned a positive result.

Pending confirmation by a laboratory, he will receive a fine and six months loss of licence for driving with an illicit drug in his system.

We celebrate our local champions

Corryong Young Citizen of the Year, Sophie Hewatt.

Luke and Jo Humphrey accepted the award for the Rise from the Ashes concert.

Corryong

Citizen of the Year
Pastor Carol Allen

Carol is Chaplain to the Corryong Police, provides pastoral support to the residents of Corryong Health Residential Aged Care Facility and is a member of the Corryong Health Community Advisory Group. She is most noticed for her work with the Corryong Food Pantry – a food relief service for the needy and disadvantaged. She was appointed Volunteer Co-ordinator of Corryong Food Pantry in 2010.

During last summer's bushfire emergency, Carol co-ordinated relief centre activities and provided pastoral care to those experiencing trauma.

Citizen of the Year
Fay Whitehead

Fay was a founding member of the management committee of the Corryong Education Centre - now the Corryong Neighbourhood Centre - and was instrumental in bringing internet services to Corryong. She developed the concept and obtained funding for the Corryong Browsers Bookshop - an outreach for lonely people to browse and have a chat or volunteer. Fay has been a Meals on Wheels volunteer with Rotary and the Anglican Church and has helped the Rotary Club cater for events.

She has also been involved with the Community Liaison Group of Upper Murray Health and Community Services and the monthly Upper Murray Farmers Market. She is committed to the Anglican Church and has served as Rector's Warden and representative on the local Foodbank committee.

Young Citizen of the Year
Sophie Hewatt

Sophie completed her education at Corryong College with a Baccalaureate VCE in 2019. She has represented her school at many sporting events including Regional Championships in swimming, athletics, cross-country as well as the State Girls Cricket finals. She was also a House Captain and School Vice-Captain. Sophie has volunteered as a junior coach for the local gymnastics club and assisted with coaching of netball and basketball. She has been a member of the Corryong Tennis Club, Corryong Golf Club, Corryong Junior Gymnastics Club, Upper Murray Dance, Corryong Amateur Basketball Association, Corryong Football and Netball Club and the Corryong Swim Club.

Sophie was a member of the CFA Advance Crew and is currently a member of the local Corryong CFA branch. During last summer's bushfires she was involved in fire suppression, asset protection, evacuations, fleet movement, communications and logistics.

Champion of the Year Award
Ian Williams

Ian volunteered continuously with the Uniting Church Emergency Fencing Team from February to December 2020. During the past year he has volunteered five days a week on 35 properties clearing burnt fence lines and rebuilding new fences for landholders in the Upper Murray. He also mentored and trained volunteers who had limited or no fencing experience.

Ian is also a member of the Corryong Men's Shed and the Corryong Baptist Church and in his spare time completes maintenance jobs for the Sacred Heart Primary School.

Local Champions

Carol, Tracey, Kate and Ralph (dec.) Fair
- Hotel Cudgewa

During last summer's bushfire emergency, the Fair family kept their business open to ensure there was a place for the Cudgewa community to come together. They provided a place for food, rest and drink, transforming it into a distribution centre, a space to hold community meetings and to provide up to date emergency information and support.

Paul Carkeek

Paul Carkeek, Captain of the Cudgewa Fire Brigade, has been a volunteer firefighter for nearly 40 years. During last summer's bushfire emergency he patrolled the Cudgewa area day and night checking for spot fires and helped to organise food and drink for other firefighters. He was a vital link to the community providing up to date emergency information when communication lines were down. Paul established the initial Cudgewa Community Centre ensuring there were sprinklers and generators in place before the second threat of fires as well as debriefing and counselling services for volunteer firefighters. Paul is a member of the Cudgewa Community Recovery Committee and represents Cudgewa on the Upper Murray Community Recovery Committee.

Pat Spicer

After last summer's bushfire emergency, Pat assisted with relief activities at the Emergency Relief Centre. When the centre was moved to the former Primary School, she was responsible for the setting up and sorting of clothing and household items along with co-ordinating all the volunteer staff. Pat has also donated her time to packing and delivering food hampers to the fire affected community members.

Jo Mackinnon

During last summer's bushfires, Jo kept records of the farmers who remained behind to defend their properties. She also became a source of up to date information, with farmers reporting physically to the Tintaldra Station homestead each day for emergency updates. When the fires had passed through the area she visited each farmer to ensure they were okay. Jo is the Treasurer of the Upper Murray Community Recovery Committee, Chair of Upper Murray Incorporated and a member of the Agricultural Recovery working group.

Jo and Luke Humphrey, Leigh Eeles, Matt Aldridge and Jodie Bonny - Rise from the Ashes Event

After witnessing the devastation of the fires, former locals Jo and Luke Humphrey wanted to help. With the support Luke's sister, Jodie Bonny and Leigh Eeles and Matt Aldridge from Coo-Wee Ride, the team organised a two-day music event held on 29 February and 1 March 2020 at Cudgewa Recreation Reserve. The team were able to quickly organise this large, logistically challenging event, with over 1,000 people attending, and $55,000 raised. They also organised hay runs, bringing trucks from as far as Geelong.

Walwa

Citizen of the Year
Sue Martin

During last summer's bushfire emergency, Sue spent many nights sleeping on the Walwa Bush Nursing Centre floor and provided community support such as cooking and cleaning, working many 16 hour days voluntarily.

Sue is a long standing member of the Bush Nursing Centre Board and has been nominated as Vice Chair. She is team leader for the Community Emergency Response Team and undertakes considerable emergency training which enables her to provide first aid response to patients while waiting for an ambulance.

Sue is Club Trainer to the Walwa Football Club, is working toward the development of the Walwa Men's Shed and has been the instigator of the Walwa Spring Markets.

Young Citizen of the Year
Robert Hanna

Robert is a CFA volunteer and worked tirelessly in the bushfire emergency last year, refusing to return to work until the fires were well under control. He is also a SES volunteer.

Robert was a volunteer mentor for the AIME education program which supports indigenous students through secondary school into university or employment. He also helped develop the Walwa Hall funding application, incorporating photographs and technical drawings.

Local Champions

Sandi Grieve and Joyce Hunt

During last summer's bushfires, Sandi and Joyce supported local residents by providing meals, attending to their medical needs and providing counselling. They often slept on floors or in their cars, to ensure they were readily available should an emergency arise.

David Hanna & Walwa CFA

Captain David and his team at the Walwa CFA Brigade worked long hours in dangerous conditions during last summer's bushfires. David refused to evacuate the district, and in return saved many homes and properties.

Snowy Valleys Council

Community Service Awards (Local)
Khancoban Emergency Services & Community Members

- Bringenbrong/Khancoban Rural Fire Service Volunteer Members led by RFS Captain Adrian Cass
- Michelle Watson and Paul Clee of National Parks & Wildlife Service
- Khancoban Police Officer, Michael Cremona
- Snowy Hydro personnel led by Drew Twigg
- Community members Sabine Werrett, Cam & Dee Harner

These members of the community went above and beyond in protecting the residents and assets of the Khancoban township and surrounding areas during last year's fires. They ensured their own families had evacuated to a safer area, while they chose to stay and help defend the community.

Adrian Cass

Adrian has been a member of the Bringenbrong RFS brigade for more than 30 years, the last 10 as captain. He has been the leader of the brigade through the 1993, 2003, 2009 and 2020 fire emergencies. He has coached and mentored new recruits, developed existing members, campaigned for service improvements and helped the community immensely.

Adrian was president of the Khancoban Tennis Club and it's successful installation of the current playing surface. For the last six years, he has been a part of the Khancoban Poker Run charity event.

Walwa's Citizen of the Year, Sue Martin.

Young Citizen of the Year, Robert Hanna.

The audience at the Corryong breakfast joins in the Australia Day Prayer.

Pairs title replaces pennant

Col Smedley and Noel Blake (left) overcame Rohan and Brett Whitehead for the pairs victory.

There was no pennant competition on Saturday so the men played the Championship Pairs, with the final played on Sunday.

Rd 1: Noel Blake and Colin Smedley d John Josipovic and Malcolm Jarvis, Ken McKimmie and Stewart Ross d Clayton Murphy and Hume Whitehead, Rohan and Brett Whitehead d Neville Clarke and Snow Turner, Simon and Angelo Donadon d Peter Mongan and Doug Smedley.

Semi-finals: Noel and Col defeated Simon and Angelo, Rohan and Brett defeated Ken and Stewart.

The final was a very good, close game, with some great bowls played. After playing catch-up for the first part of the game Noel and Col eventually overcame Rohan and Brett to win by a couple of shots.

This week there were 18 players at Wednesday social bowls – a very good turnout! The winning team was Rohan Whitehead, Colin Clark and Tom Jarvis.

On Thursday we had 10 players, winners being Faye McKimmie, Jeanette McInnes and Marion Reiners.

The ladies will be playing their Championship Pairs on February 4th and three weeks after that, on February 25th the Championship Triples. Please organise your teams for these events.

Thursday roster for February 11th:- C Ross, M Whitehead, W Hill.

Paull & ScollardUpper Murray Sport*Golfers bring the heat to river course

The Walwa Golf Club hosted its annual Australia Day tournament on Sunday and despite being christened the 'Cool-off 500', the extreme heat put the 90 players in the 3-person ambrose event to the test.

The competition was also pretty hot and the Holbrook team of Greg Gibbs, Simon Mohr and Jade Rangi had to pull out all stops to win with a score of 63-85 from the Corryong combination of Craig McKimmie, Kelly Galbraith and Warren Sinclair (66-9.83-56.17).

Third place went to Zack O'Connell, Cynthia & Richard Alexander (61-4.17-56.83).

Other results:- Longest drives: M Hamilton (C grade), J Rangi (B), W Dubois (A); NTPs: 8th/17th - W Dubois, 6th/15th - M Hibberson, 3rd/12th (ladies) - V

Kirby; Straight drive: Men - D Lacey; Ladies - A Widdison.

In other Walwa golf news, Neva Taylor has been awarded Life Membership of the club.

For many years, Neva was the ladies captain and champion of the Walwa club (at both the current river course and previously, the Guy's Forest course).

In her formative years growing up in Bendigo, Neva excelled at sport including tennis, basketball and golf. Early on Neva would bring her son, Peter, in his pram with her to the golf course.

Hills Zone Pennant

R4 31 January (@ Holbrook):- 8.00am Bat-low v Corryong; 8.30am Tumarumba v Welaregang; 9.00am Adelong v Walwa.

Corryong

Midweek results:-

Wed. 20/1:- Golfers played a stableford event and the happy winner was Shirley Turnham with 18 points. Sue Morley delighted herself and us all with 17 points as did Poss Morrow as runners-up.

Mon. 25/1:- Golfers played a 3-person pothurst event and the winners were Shirley Turnham, Ruby Wilkinson and Cheryl Smedley with a very healthy 31 points. They had an exciting game with Cheryl having a birdie on the 13th and Shirley a gobble on the 15th. Ruby contributed with her usual solid ground strokes.

Corryong midweek golf summer comp is played on Monday and Wednesday 7:30am for 8am play. All welcome.

Saturday novice golf will continue on Saturday at 8:30am unless notified otherwise.

The Holbrook crew of Jade Rangi (left), Simon Mohr and Greg Gibbs were the victors at the Walwa 500.
